Insurance Broker continues expansion

New Zealand's latest national insurance broking group C & G Rothbury is up and running after being officially launched last Friday April 1.

The group which is the result of an amalgamation of Rothbury Insurance Brokers and Commercial & General (C&G) Insurance Brokers is now one of New Zealand's largest.

Uniting in order to establish a national broking network while positioning itself to handle any future legislative changes, C & G Rothbury aim to use their size as a means to further growth.

Demonstrating this desire the new company wasted no time opening two new branches on day one.

Situated in Takapuna on Auckland's north shore and in Wellington's central city these branches will trade as Commercial & General (Northern) and Commercial & General (Wellington).

Heading the operations are Mr. Stuart Dowling in Takapuna and Mr. Chris Hughes in Wellington.

These branches compliment other C & G Rothbury operations in the same cities and provide greater coverage and easier access for C & G Rothbury's many clients and underwriting partners.
